Product More Details

The blissfully cute duck night light, has three brightness settings and a warm light that is comfortable and not harsh. Just give it a tap or squeeze to make it glow, making it a very practical bedside and companion light.

USB rechargeable design with a large rechargeable battery for a long lasting life and long lasting use. The switch on the bottom allows you to easily choose the light source setting, warm white light, yellow light and dazzling colour changing light. The night light is made of high quality silicone with no sharp edges and will not deform when pinched at will. The cosy and comfortable duck shape makes you love it at first glance and the little hat on top of the head is vividly cute.

The night light has a 30-minute timer for sleeping, if you want him to keep watch over the whole night, plug it in and turn it to the long light setting to leave the light on all night. It gives you and your baby a sense of security.

A small night light can not only decorate your room, but also become a good companion for children, helping them overcome their fear of darkness and sleep more peacefully. It's a beautiful gift for boys and girls!

It emits just a perfect amount of light - not enough to keep anyone awake, but enough that if a child needs to run to the restroom or grab something in their room in the middle of the night, they can do so without having to turn on another light. It's a great nightlight for all ages 8 months to 80. It's so easy to use and recharge. But most of all it's so darn CUTE. It's small and fits on anywhere, so it is a perfect little gift to make someone smile. It makes me smile and giggle every time I glance at him.
